

THE OUTDOOR KITCHEN, ENGINEERED

One pod. Four sizes.

A fully-integrated outdoor kitchen, delivered built. Electric door, 304 stainless cabinets, built-in grill, hood, sink, fridge and TV. Everything you need to know — models, specifications, finishes and prices — in one document.

Engineered like an appliance.

Presented like architecture.

A PoshBBQ pod arrives on one pallet, fully built. No flat-pack, no trades, no weekend lost to assembly. Stand it on a flat pad, connect power and water, and it's an outdoor kitchen that same afternoon.

The same electric door and the same 304 stainless run through every model. What changes between them is only the size of the pod and what's built into it — so the choice is simple, and the quality never is.

W ← 2200 mm →

Small gardens, patios and courtyards.

FIG. 02 – A-PLUS

W 2850 mm

A-Plus

The one most people pick.

Everything in the A-Mini, plus a proper Italian range hood and a 32-inch TV on a fold-out arm. This is the pod you'll see in most of our photographs — if you're not sure which model to choose, choose this one.

- ☐ 32" gas grill · stainless black or steel
- ☐ Italian range hood · stainless sink, pull-out tap
- ☐ Fridge · 32" LCD TV on telescopic mount
- ☐ Blum soft-close drawers · LED strips

Family gatherings and standard gardens. The one most people pick.

FIG. 03 — A-ULTRA

A-Ultra

The biggest.

Three and a half metres of kitchen. A bigger grill (46"), a bigger TV (42"), wall cupboards, and space for planters on both sides. This is the one architects specify when the drawing calls for a real outdoor kitchen — not a barbecue.

Four honest materials. Nothing you have to hide.

Six-layer up-hung door on an electro-hydraulic gate. Lifts at the touch of a remote.

02

304 stainless throughout — the grade specified for marine and kitchen use.

03

Welded steel structure, powder-coated. Rated to carry the full fit-out.
